Version 1.0 | Fictional knowledge-base document for the Agentic RAG assignment

1. Leave Overview

Eligibility

Full-time employees receive leave benefits according to the policy described in this document. Part-time and contract employees may have different arrangements specified in their employment agreements.

Leave should be planned in advance whenever reasonably possible and must be recorded through the company's approved leave-management system.

Leave Year

The leave year runs from January 1 through December 31. Unused leave is handled according to the applicable carry-forward rules in this policy.

2. Annual Leave

Entitlement

Eligible full-time employees receive 20 days of annual leave per calendar year. Annual leave is intended for planned personal time, vacations, and other approved absences.

Approval

Employees should submit annual leave requests at least five working days before the planned start date when practical. Managers review requests based on staffing, project commitments, and previously approved leave.

Urgent situations may be handled with shorter notice when circumstances make advance notice impractical.

Carry Forward

Up to 5 unused annual-leave days may be carried into the next leave year. Any additional unused days normally expire unless an exception is approved in writing by People Operations.

3. Sick Leave

Entitlement

Eligible full-time employees receive 10 days of sick leave per calendar year. Sick leave is intended for an employee's illness, medical appointments, or recovery from a health-related condition.

Notification

Employees who are unable to work because of illness should notify their manager as soon as reasonably possible, preferably before the normal start of the workday.

Documentation

For an absence of more than three consecutive working days, the company may request reasonable medical documentation in accordance with applicable law and company procedures.

4. Casual Leave

Entitlement

Employees receive 6 days of casual leave per calendar year. Casual leave is intended for short, unexpected personal needs and should be requested through the standard leave system whenever possible.

Restrictions

Casual leave should not be used to conceal unapproved absence or to bypass attendance procedures. Managers may request clarification when repeated patterns of short-notice absence affect team operations.

5. Parental Leave

Maternity Leave

Eligible employees receive maternity leave according to applicable Indian law and the company's benefits procedures. The People Operations team confirms the applicable entitlement and required documentation for each employee.

Paternity and Adoption

Eligible employees may receive paternity or adoption leave under the company's current parental-leave program. Employees should contact People Operations for the current entitlement and documentation requirements.

6. Holidays and Attendance

Company Holidays

The company publishes an annual holiday calendar for each applicable office location. Employees should refer to the calendar for location-specific holidays.

Late Attendance

Employees who expect to arrive late should inform their manager or team according to local team procedures. Repeated unexplained lateness may be addressed through the company's attendance-management process.

7. Leave Administration

Leave Records

All planned leave must be recorded in the approved leave-management system. Managers are responsible for reviewing requests, while employees are responsible for ensuring their leave records are accurate.

Unapproved Absence

An absence that has not been requested, approved, or appropriately reported may be treated as an attendance issue and may require review by the employee's manager and People Operations.
